CINCINNATI, OH (FOX19)- Bengals fans got a chance to give back while they did a little tailgating today.

Anthony Munoz partnered with Savannah Nite Limousine and set up shop at Longworth Hall before Sunday's game against the Cleveland Browns collecting toys for local needy kids.

His goal was to fill two limousines with gifts.

And Munoz says a winning team helps his cause a lot.

"I think it always does. It's great for the city and hopefully with what's going on the Bengals and then a big win today...puts them more in the spirit of giving," says Munoz.

The former Bengal also signed autographs for donations to the Anthony Munoz Foundation to buy even more toys.
