Winton Woods City Schools Athletes Attend Munoz Football Camp

Contributed By Teresa Cleary | Winton Woods Schools Communications Department | ShareThis

Seven students from Winton Woods City Schools participated in the Anthony Munoz Foundation "Impact for Eternity" football camp from Thursday, March 25 - Sunday, March 28 in Xenia, Ohio at the Athletes in Action world headquarters. Each year Hall of Fame player Anthony Munoz invites students to the camp for encouragement and advice on football and life. The camp stresses good character, teambuilding, leadership, and football training for young men in grades 6-8.

Participants from Winton Woods Middle School were Daniel Cage, Elijah Alexander, Steven Thompson, Ray Satterwhite, Tre Von Teague, and Keith Bray. Sixth grader Lionel McConnell from Winton Woods Intermediate School also participated.

"These young men were nominated based upon their high moral character and their athletic abilities," said Winton Woods Principal Dwight Campbell. MVP awards were given to Daniel Cage, Steven Thompson and Ray Satterwhite based on their performance in the camp's activities and each student's positive behavior throughout the camp.
